

Jo Ann Kosanic, Grand Haven, Michigan

Jo Ann resides with her husband and two children in the Grand Haven area. Coming from a “horse family”, Jo Ann has been involved in horses her entire life. She has shown a variety of breeds in five different disciplines. She competed in 4-H, local and breed circuit shows, and also competed on the state and national levels of horse judging and horse bowl as a youth.

Although she rarely shows any longer, she attends horse shows every weekend as either a judge, show manager or horse show mom. She has been on the Michigan 4-H Judges list for 35 years. Jo Ann holds both state and national credentials in horse judging.

She has served as a member of the Michigan Horse Judges Advisory Committee and is currently the Rules Chairperson for Michigan Interscholastic Horsemanship Association.

Jo Ann will share insights on How to Get Started as a Horse Show Judge in her session at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, March 13, in Seminar Room A.
